Public Affairs Forum of India (PAFI) Announces Telangana as Partner State for 12th Annual Forum

New Delhi, September 2, 2025 — The Public Affairs Forum of India (PAFI) is set to host its 12th Annual Forum, its flagship event, on 18-19 September 2025 in New Delhi. This year, the forum proudly announces the State of Telangana as its official Partner State, underscoring the critical role of states in shaping India's economic and global engagement story. The partnership with Telangana provides a unique platform to showcase the state's leadership and proactive role in advancing the Annual Forum's theme of 'India and the World'.

This year's Annual Forum comes at a crucial juncture, as India navigates complex global dynamics, slowing consumption, and structural reforms, with its sights firmly set on the goal of becoming a Viksit Bharat by 2047. With a sharp focus on supply chain partnerships, infrastructure transformation, and innovation-driven reforms, the Forum will provide valuable insights for corporates, policymakers, and public affairs professionals. The active participation and insights from the Telangana government will enrich discussions on how states can drive national progress and global engagement.

Over the years, the Annual Forum has emerged as the premier platform for high-level dialogue on long-term policy, economic direction, and stakeholder engagement in India.

"I am delighted that Telangana and PAFI are partnering for their prestigious annual conclave. Telangana, India's youngest state, is shaping a bold and inclusive future with Telangana Rising 2047, a vision to grow into a $1 trillion economy by 2035 and $3 trillion by 2047, when India will celebrate the centenary of its Independence. We are keen to transform our state and society into one of India's first fully developed regions by the highest global standards and look forward to PAFI playing a key proactive role in this ambitious, transformative journey," said A. Revanth Reddy, Chief Minister of the State of Telangana.

Telangana joins as Partner State for PAFI Annual Forum 2025

Public Affairs Forum of India is delighted to welcome the Government of Telangana as a Partner State for the 12th Annual Forum of the Public Affairs Forum of India (PAFI) — our flagship platform for dialogue on India's policy and economic priorities. This year's theme, "India and the World: Collaboration • Connectivity • Competitiveness", reflects the spirit of a rising India in a shifting global order. Telangana perfectly embodies this vision. As one of India's youngest and most dynamic states, its Vision 2047 blueprint, global innovation hubs, cutting-edge infrastructure, and inclusive growth model make it a natural partner for the Forum.

'If Trump does not relent, US varsities will come to Hyd'

STATESMAN NEWS SERVICE
Hyderabad, 19 September

Telangana Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy Friday said that if US President Donald Trump does not grant visas to Indians going abroad for studies or work, US universities and manufacturing units will make a beeline for Telangana. Speaking at an event in even compared his predecessor and BRS president K Chandrasekhar Rao with Trump, taking decisions based on whims, and pointed out that he was driven out by the people.

Addressing the Public Affairs Forum of India (PAFI), Reddy did not name K Chandrasekhar Rao, popularly known as KCR, but aimed a jibe at him. He said: "Telangana also had a Trump, but people think of something in your dreams at night and just implement it the next day. It is not going to affect our economy; it is going to affect the US economy. If they are reluctant to give visas and admissions to Indians, all those institutes are going to come to India. I spoke to Harvard, I spoke to Stanford. I have initiated talks. Next month I am going to join Harvard to learn something, and Andhra Pradesh send a vast number of students and professionals to the US every year, and ever since Trump came to power, there have been increasing apprehensions about getting a US visa.

He then said other universities have also expressed interest in coming to Hyderabad. "The London School of Economics and Purdue (University), also wanted to come to Telangana. If Trump is not going to allow Indians, those universities will come to our place," said Reddy. He promised to make Hyderabad India's first city to mitigate risks from the climate crisis, including drought and urban flooding.

On the sidelines of the PAFI conclave, Reddy held discussions with the governor of New Jersey, Phil Murphy, with both leaders agreeing to systematic cooperation and bilateral exchange in sectors such as software technologies, life sciences, urban transit, and movies. Reddy also invited universities in New Jersey to set up offshore campuses in
