

Currently heading public affairs and communications for Yara in India. A passionate public policy and communications professional with two decades of experience across industry including Bayer, Monsanto, Rabobank and UPL, skilled in strategic communication, policy advocacy and stakeholder engagement across the ecosystem.

Demonstrated expertise in managing complex projects, building strong partnerships, and driving sustainability initiatives that align with organisational goals. Proven track record in enhancing brand reputation and delivering impactful narratives across diverse sectors while advancing sustainability and corporate responsibility.

With an executive certification in public policy from ISB and a Strategic Leadership certification from Harvard University, a Management graduate specializing in Agribusiness.