

Aman Jain

is the Senior Director and Head of Public Policy, India at Meta. A seasoned corporate executive with over 20 years of public policy and business strategy experience, he has a proven track record across Google, Amazon, the Government of India, and international organizations.

His leadership experience includes serving as Global CEO of an organization across 100+ countries and driving strategic growth for businesses with over multi-billion-dollar revenue in India. Aman previously served as Country Head for Government Affairs & Public Policy at Google India, and most recently as Director of Public Policy at Amazon, where he led policy strategy across marketplace, operations, competition, and technology. He brings deep expertise in crisis management, team leadership, cross-functional relationships, business growth, public speaking, media interactions, and stakeholder engagement.