

Sunjay Sudhir is a distinguished former Indian diplomat with over three decades of high-level service in the Indian Foreign Service (1993–2025). An engineer by training, he brings analytical precision and strategic depth to global diplomacy, with deep expertise in geopolitics, international trade, and multilateral economic negotiations.

Over the course of his diplomatic career, he served in key ambassadorial assignments, notably as India's Ambassador to the United Arab Emirates (2021–2025) during a period of transformative bilateral trade expansion, and as Ambassador to the Maldives (2019–2021). His extensive global footprint spans postings across four continents, including Indian diplomatic missions in Australia, Switzerland, Sri Lanka, Syria, and Egypt.

Today, he advises on global trade frameworks, cross-border commercial partnerships, and geopolitical strategy across evolving international markets.
