Moderator

Nitin Pai

Co-Founder & Director
The Takshashila Institution

Nitin Pai is co-founder and director of the Takshashila Institution, an independent centre for research and education in public policy. His current research includes information warfare and high tech geopolitics. He teaches international relations, ethical reasoning and public policy at Takshashila's graduate programmes.

Pai's regular columns appear in Mint and ThePrint.

He was a gold medalist from the National University of Singapore's Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, an undergraduate scholar at Nanyang Technological University, and an alum of National College, Bangalore. He has worked in various capacities in the telecommunications industry, including in satellite design and undersea cable projects. Before founding Takshashila, he spent more than a decade at the Singapore government as a policymaker in the technology sector.
